

SC Centro Latino “El Centro”

Dr. Araceli Hernandez-Laroche, Director of SC Centro Latino, speaks with faculty, students, and community members about the work her organization does to increase the visibility of the Latinx community

Event: On Thursday, 1/26/2023, Community Relations Consultant, Danielle Lindley, attended an informational session hosted by Dr. Araceli Hernandez-Laroche, Director of SC Centro Latino (SCCL), also known as “El Centro”. SCCL bridges cultures statewide through linguistic awareness and accessibility. The three pillars of their work seek to create institutional space for belonging, civility, wellness, and equity: Latinx Interdisciplinary Studies, the Public Humanities, and Translation and Community Interpreting. The SCCL also studies the Spartanburg Racial Equity Index findings on monumental challenges facing Hispanics and Latinos/as.

More Information:

SC Centro Latino: <https://www.facebook.com/SouthCarolinaCentroLatino>

Spartanburg Racial Equity Index: <https://spcf.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/09/Equity-in-Spartanburg-FINAL.pdf>