WOMEN'S MONTH 2021

Trailblazers: Women Making History

Each year, Women's History Month provides us a opportunity to spotlight on the extraordinary legacy of trailblazing women in our community, state, and nation. Throughout our amazing history, women have made important contributions, often while facing discrimination and undue hardship. Brave women led the movement and won the right to vote, they led the movement against injustice, all while shattering innumerable obstacles while expanding the prospect of American life.

Here at the SC Human Affairs Commission, we call on all South Carolinians to take time to honor and observe this month while celebrating the hard work and contributions of all women.

21 MARCH

International Anti-Racism Day

Events today in our society has taught us there is no vaccine against intolerance, hate and racism. Racism, xenophobia, nativism and other forms of hate and intolerance has no place in South Carolina or in the United States. On March 21st, on the International Day for Elimination of Racial Discrimination, all people come together to commit to the basic right that all people have the right to be treated fairly and justly. As Americans and South Carolinians, we must strive daily to eliminate social injustices and inequities in our communities, so all people are able to fully participate equally in our great society.

Here at the South Carolina Human Affairs Commission, we strive daily to lead the way for all South Carolinians to fully and equally participate in our state. The SC Human Affairs Commission recognizes we have a lot of work ahead of us, however if we strive forward together we can improve the quality of life for all South Carolinians.
